

14 FAMILIES PAID RENT TO IMPOSTER FOR 18 MONTHS

So They Tell Real Estate Agent, Now Starting Dispossess Proceedings.

If the tenants in the house at No. 481 East 72d Street are to be believed, a wise individual, unknown by name to them, has been collecting rent from them for eighteen months although he had no interest in the property. Dispossess notices were served on the tenants, numbering fourteen heads of families, yesterday by Ernest J. N. Adler, a real estate agent, of No. 1508 First Avenue, acting for the trustees of the estate of Nicola Russo.

Russo was the owner of the house and collected his rents. When he died the 72d Street property, which is in the Bohemian section of Yorkville, was not listed among his assets.

However, the tenants charge, a man continued to collect the rents. Mrs. Josephine Bieher, the janitress, collected $14 a month from two tenants. Out of this she took her pay and settled for necessary repairs.

None of the tenants speak English. From their accounts, gathered to-day through an interpreter, the man who collected the rents was a tall, short, thin, stout, red-haired, black-haired, smooth shaven, whiskered person, all the way from twenty to seventy-two years old.

The dispossess warrants are returnable Friday. The trustees of the Russo estate, who found the house only a few days ago, doubt that anybody has been collecting the rents and have brought suit for the arrears.

WILL PAY $50,000 INSURANCE ON GEMS

Broker Prepared to Make Good
Loss of Mrs. Robertson, Hold-Up Victim.

Robert G. Mattbie, the insurance broker who wrote and placed with Lloyd's, the policy on Mrs. Sarah Lavan Miller Robertson's $50,000 worth of jewels, said to-day he is prepared to pay Mrs. Robertson's loss. She was robbed by a lone thief while entertaining friends at dinner in her Deal, N. J., home Saturday night.

This "stick-up," according to Mr. Mattbie, was probably one of those daring feats not uncommon nowadays. Some one, doubtless, saw her with her jewels in the Hotel McAlpin, where she lived in this city, learned where her Jersey residence was, got to know her movements there and then went to work.

"I have held Mrs. Robertson's policy for her jewels six or eight years," said Mr. Mattbie to-day, "and I have no reason to believe Saturday night's robbery was other than it was described by her and the guests at her house."

The police have found no trace of the robber or the gems.

BILL COLLECTOR KNOCKED DOWN, DIES

Trying to collect money owed by young men for snappy clothing took its place among the dangerous vocations last evening when Jacob Holzman, twenty-eight, No. 167 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, died on the sidewalk in front of the stage entrance to the Alhambra Theatre, No. 208 West 126th Street. Holzman and his brother Abraham were associated in a credit clothing business at No. 29 East Broadway. Spectators told the police Holzman met three young men at 5 o'clock and asked for promised payments on a suit and overcoat. Suddenly one of the young men struck Holzman in the face. He fell and lay still. Then the three men ran to a taxicab and escaped. Dr. Hart of Harlem Hospital said Holzman apparently had died of heart disease when struck. Philip Heller, twenty-six, and Walter Paul, twenty-eight, both of No. 505 West 134th Street, were locked up early to-day in the West 123d Street Station by order of Assistant District Attorney Dineen, on a charge of homicide in connection with Holzman's death. According to the police the prisoners admitted they had had trouble with Holzman.

A Creamy Milk

which you'll delight to know

Our purpose is to introduce you to the finest milk you will ever know.

The production is limited. It comes only from the finest dairying sections and from high-bred cows. So Van Camp's Milk can never be supplied to more than one home in twenty.

We select certain sections, and this is now one. Here the grocers will be kept supplied.
And we want every home around here to know what a milk this is.

Double-rich milk

Van Camp's Milk comes from the finest dairying sections of the Middle West. In the midst of those sections we have built model condenseries, surrounded by sanitary dairies filled with high-bred cows.

The milk fresh from the cow is put into a vacuum. There, by low heat, we evaporate most of the water. Nothing else is taken out, nothing whatever is added.

It comes to you as thick as cream. It is over twice as rich as bottled milk—nearly 8 per cent butter fat.

Milk and cream

Use Van Camp's as it is for coffee and cereals. For drinking, add an equal part of water.
For cooking, dilute still further,
and you still have a whole rich milk.

It costs much less than bottled milk, because it saves all waste. There are small cans and tall cans, so you open what you want. You always have all the milk you want, but never a drop to spoil.

A 20-year result

The Van Camp experts have worked 20 years to supply this ideal milk. Now the homes of this section can get it.

We want you to try it, and at once, so we offer you this gift. Use a dozen cans and your grocer will present you a lifetime gift which will well repay that test.

Accept the offer made below and see what this gift is. This will also introduce you to the ideal milk. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.
